IN THIS ISSUE

This edition of our International Directory of Ecumenical Research Centers and Publications (Autumn, 1981) is a revision of our previously published Ecumenism Around the World of 1971 and 1975, and of our Provisional International Directory published one year ago. In that 1980 revision, we listed 220 centers; now more than half of these entries have been modified, ninety deleted, and twenty new ones added as a result of the replies we received to our questionnaire. We particularly thank the ninety or so centers who responded in detail, often exchanging with us their publications. Where no reply was received, we have omitted the center from this listing, unless its existence is obvious to us from other sources of information. We are happy to hear of an unforeseen additional use of our Directory: some centers have xeroxed our pages, cut them up into labels, and thus secured an updated mailing list of their own, facilitating the circulation of publications among the centers.

Because the word "ecumenical center" has come to include such a wide variety of agencies, we have limited our entries to those which have an emphasis on research, have an ongoing program of education, a library, a publication, or at least one of these. Obviously our inclusion or exclusion of a center or publication does not imply an evaluation of worth, but simply our best judgement as to whether such information would be helpful within the scope of our work.

Those seeking information on councils of churches should consult the Directory of Christian Councils (Third Edition, 1980) published by the WCC; for church related ecumenical offices one should consult local denominational directories; for information about church union agencies see The Ecumenical Review published by the WCC. We do not cover institutions acting only as periodical editors, nor social agencies.

For a more complete list of periodicals which publish ecumenical information, see A Bibliography of Interchurch and Interconfessional Theological Dialogues to be published by the Centro Pro Unione next year. General theological periodicals are not listed in this Directory, but both church union and local bulletins which contain ecumenical information are included.

We hope that users of this Directory will continue to offer corrections and additional information, which will be published regularly in the Autumn issue of the Bulletin of the Centro Pro Unione. I am grateful to the members of our staff, and to those of other ecumenical centers, who have gathered and refined this information.
